Dear Examiner Wilson,

Thank you for the Office Action dated June 3, 2002. Please enter these amendments:

IN THE CLAIMS

Please amend the pending claims as follows:

1. (Amended) A method to prepare human collagen or human procollagen, which method comprises:

recovering milk from the mammary glands of a nonhuman mammal which mammal has been modified to comprise an expression system which comprises a coding nucleotide sequence encoding at least one human procollagen operably linked to control nucleotide sequences that effect expression specifically in milk protein-secreting epithelial cells of said mammary glands under conditions wherein said coding nucleotide sequence is expressed to secrete human procollagen or human collagen into the milk of said mammal; and recovering the human procollagen or human collagen from the milk.
